

Layoffs Considered In Lansing To Meet State Budget Pinch

LANSING — (P)—Senate Republicans unveiled a plan yesterday to cut a proposed deficiency appropriation by a third and force layoffs of state employees.

The development brought a crackling disclaimer from the executive office and some fancy side-stepping by House Republicans.

In a caucus, the Senate Republicans agreed to allow only about $3,400,000 of the $10,156,559 asked by Controller Robert F. Steadman to make up deficiencies in the current budgets of state agencies.

Would Fire 3,000
Some $2,500,000 of the total would have gone to make up the salary increase approved last January by the civil service commission.

The Republican plan is to lop this amount off along with miscellaneous other deficiencies and reduce the appropriation to the absolute minimum.

Governor Williams said it "seems inconceivable . . . That the Republican majority of the Legislature will attempt to carry out such a program that will require the firing of thousands of employees, leave prisons without attendants and patients in hospitals without adequate care and the general welfare of the state in jeopardy."

Steadman said carrying out the plan would result in the firing of some 3,000 state employees or letting some paydays pass without pay for them.

No Decision In House
Senator G. Elwood Bonine (R-Vandalia), however, said layoffs would not be that drastic, claiming they would total between 500 and 1,000.

House Republicans had been considering the plan in secret, but when Senators revealed their decision, Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) admitted the representatives had talked it over.

He insisted, however, the House majority had made no decision other than to hold the deficiency appropriation down to a minimum.

Allies Stand Pat Rejecting Russia As Truce Neutral

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
MUNSAN, Korea — (P)—Allied truce negotiators bluntly told the Communists today: U. N. rejection of Soviet Russia as a member of a neutral supervisory commission was "firm, final and irrevocable."

A U. N. spokesman said the Allied statement was the "strongest since last July" when the Reds were warned that armistice negotiations would break down unless they abandoned demands for a cease-fire line on the 38th parallel.

The Communists replied in almost equally strong language that "any such attitude of arrogance and arbitrariness will be categorically rejected by our side."

Col. Don Darrow told the Reds: "I now tell you formally, unequivocally and with the fullest authorization that the U. N. Command's decision to reject the Soviet Union as a member of the neutral nation supervisory commission is final and irrevocable. Further debate on this subject is completely futile."

In an adjacent tent the subcommittee on prisoner exchange made little progress in its first session since Feb. 6. Staff officers turned the voluntary repatriation problem back to the subcommittee after reaching virtual agreement on all other points of an exchange plan.

Subcommittees ironed out some minor disputes Friday but failed to break the voluntary repatriation deadlock.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists again brought up the Feb. 18 riot in a U. N. prison compound on Kojima Island in which 75 Korean civilians were killed and 139 wounded.

The Reds charged that Allied guards "massacred their people with rifles, hand grenades and tanks."

Frameup Alleged In Jewel Thefts

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — (P)—The attorney for a man accused of plotting to pirate Indian gold from Mexico in a bomber says his client did it to get material for an adventure story he is writing.

The lawyer, Jack L. Karen, said yesterday the manuscript must be used to show his client, Robert Lord III, 33, is the victim of a "giant frameup."

Lord and Glen Spaulding, 23, David Hutton, 33, and Lee Edmund Moore, 30, are charged with robbery, attempted robbery and kidnapping for the purpose of robbery. They are accused of participating in four jewel robberies as part of a plan to collect $600,000 to purchase a surplus bomber to finance a gold-seeking expedition into Mexico.

Lord, in the import business, and the others were seized by Det. Sgt. Ray Borders, who joined the gang through a ruse and sprung a rap on them.

Borders said Spaulding told him they could sell a ton of gold for $1,800,000. Spaulding said he earned from a Yaqui chief that the Indians had 2,400 pounds of gold in a cache near a Nogales, Mex., reservation. Only $300 cash was realized from the jewel thefts.

Russell Steals Dixie Banner For Presidency

(By The Associated Press)
Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, in entering the Democratic Presidential race, may have snatched the Dixie banner from Tennessee's candidate Estes Kefauver.

Moreover, Russell is seen as a threat to President Truman himself if the President decides to run again. Truman said Thursday he won't make his plans known before about March 29 at the earliest.

Backed By Governors
Russell, popular 54-year-old bachelor, already has received favorable reactions from governors of South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, and Mississippi, and probably will get the support of the Texas governor who has been urging him to run. He has the backing of a dozen southern senators.

This support for the Georgian, who described himself as a "Jeffersonian Democrat who believes in the greatest practicable degree of local self-government," is far more potent than the leadership which sparked the 1948 States Rights revolt.

May Help Truman

However, his entry into the race strengthens Truman's hand in one way: If the President doesn't run and backs Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the governor might find his cause helped by a possible three-way split in the South. Kefauver publicly welcomed Russell's entry into the Democratic race. He said it would bring a new discussion of issues, which is a healthy thing.

The Tennesseean, in a New York television show, said last night there ought to be more emphasis on "things other than armament" in the American foreign policy. On the whole, however, he said he backed the administration's policy, although he said the people should "have more confidence in our ability to lead the world."

Beaver Island Plans To Buy Ferry Line, Now Losing Money

LANSING — (P)—The House yesterday passed a bill designed to permit the two townships on Beaver Island to either buy or subsidize the ferry line running between the island and Charlevoix.

The measure was sent to the Senate.

Rep. Louis Anderson (R-Northport), sponsor, said the ferry line was losing money and that the island's 400 population sought the power to keep it solvent with public funds.

Entrenched Chinese At Kumsong Blasted By UN Tank Raiders

By MILO FARNETTI
SEOUL, Korea — (P)—A powerful force of Allied tank raiders smashed through the former Red supply base of Kumsong today and blasted Chinese entrenched north of the city.

Another group of raiding U. N. tanks fought it out with Chinese artillery and mortars on the western front.

The big tank strike through Kumsong on the central front was supported by eight inch Howitzers and a 155 mm. self-propelled gun. The two-pronged strike battered the Reds for more than three hours.

One prong rumbled right through Kumsong and, in the words of one Allied officer, "shot the living hell out of" Chinese hidden in the hills beyond the city.

The second prong blasted Chinese east and south of the ruined base.

Some of the 46-ton General Patton tanks were damaged. But others broke off the fight this afternoon.

It was a big strike in the generally quiet Korean war. But censorship prevented disclosure of the number of tanks involved.

On the western front another tank force traded fire with Chinese artillery and mortars for an hour and a half this morning before it was ordered to return to its base. The action was west of Chorwon, once the western anchor of the Iron Triangle.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported a few patrol actions, but generally Allied troops along the 155 mile front enjoyed a quiet Spring day.

Traffic Deaths Take Drop For January

CHICAGO — (P)—Death on the streets and highways started 1952 on a downslide.

The national safety council today reported motor vehicle fatalities totaled 2,700 in January — five per cent below the toll of January, 1951.

It was the first time since April, 1951, that any month's traffic death total has been lower than in the corresponding month of the previous year.

Action On UMT Bill Demanded

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON — (P)—The House faced a demand today for a clear-cut decision on Universal Military Training as debate entered its fourth day.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) told the House in supporting a UMT bill yesterday: "Let's either pass it or kill it."

Both Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee, leading the fight for the bill, and Rep. Short (R-Mo.), heading the opposition, told a reporter they wanted the same definitive vote.

This means voting directly on UMT instead of sidetracking the issue by sending it back to committee. That procedure would put the measure on ice for this session, but it could emerge again.

The present bill calls for compulsory six months' training of 18-year-olds, with 7½ years' service in the reserves. It does not specify a starting date or designate how many are to be trained. Several amendments are expected to be presented next week, including one to set a date for either the end of this phase of UMT or for a Congressional review of the program.

A motion to send the measure back to the committee also is expected.

Father And Son Killed By Train At Muskegon Heights

MUSKEGON — (P)—A Muskegon father and son lost their lives this morning when their auto was hit by a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train at a crossing on the outskirts of Muskegon Heights.

Einer C. Baker, 22, was killed instantly. His father, Clarence Baker, 59, died of injuries an hour and a half later in Hackley hospital.

The impact smashed the auto against a signal light abutment, and threw young Baker 60 feet from the car. The father was pinned in the wreckage.

The train was southbound toward Holland.

Wayne County Pays State Back $551,293

LANSING — (P)—Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr., today reported receipt of a check for $551,293 from Wayne county.

The money represented money owed to the state by Wayne for a six month period ending Dec. 31, 1951.

The quick response from Wayne came after Martin sent a batch of letters to the counties asking them to pay up what they owed to help out the state's general fund.

Washtenaw county promised to pay $32,849 and Chippewa county came through with $2,226 as the other immediate results of the dunning letters.

Witness Identifies Head Of Communists In Upper Peninsula

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT — (P)—Grandmother Bernice Baldwin, one of the FBI's spies on Communists, told today of widespread organization of the party in Michigan, up to the year 1950.

The grey-haired, 40-year-old woman took the stand in the House Un-American Activities inquiry to relate in detail her experiences as an undercover agent.

Girl Won't Answer

The testimony of Mrs. Baldwin followed upon the suspension of a Wayne University co-ed for her refusal to answer questions before the investigators and a threat of prosecution for fraud against another defiant witness.

The nattily-dressed Mrs. Baldwin, chic in a feather-cut hair-do and dark earrings, told the investigators of a Communist organization of clubs in at least 30 Michigan cities. She mentioned particularly, in a breakdown of the party in Michigan, the memberships at Lansing and Ann Arbor—including "college teachers" in the former and "college students in the latter."

Presumably she referred to teachers at Michigan State College and students at University of Michigan.

Professors In Club

She mentioned that the Ann Arbor organization was "very significant on account of the college people." She did not go into detail at that moment but said that the "majority of members were college students."

With regard to the Lansing Communist "club," Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) of Cheboygan, a subcommittee member, asked her

California Red Trial Enlivened

LOS ANGELES — (P)—Communist underground plans, a national radio communications scheme and an atomic scientist—all contained in the testimony of a top ex-Communist—have enlivened the trial of California's 15 Communist party leaders.

John Lautner, eastern functionary of the party for 21 years, joined the defense yesterday with these disclosures from the witness stand:

The Communist party in 1948 and 1949 devised an intricate system for going underground in New York and elsewhere if and when the party was declared illegal.

It was directed by Robert Thompson, one of the 11 national leaders convicted of conspiracy in 1949. Thompson appointed Lautner to carry out the program in New York state.

John Williamson, another of the convicted hierarchy, discussed with Lautner the possibility of a national network of amateur radio stations and mobile transmitters to link the proposed underground.

In 1941, one of his teachers at the party's national school for leaders was an atomic scientist, an assistant professor at Columbia University known to Lautner as "John."

Democrats Tackle Compensation Bill

LANSING — (P)—House Democrats were girding for a fight next week over a bill liberalizing workmen's compensation.

Scheduled for debate today the measure was postponed until Monday by Republican floor leaders.

Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority floor leader, said the Democrats had agreed to make a fight for including other liberalizations in the measure.

As it stands, the bill would raise benefits $4 a week and increase the funeral benefit from $300 to $400.

Uranium Reported In North Manitoba

THE PAS, Man. — (P)—A possible uranium strike has been reported in Northern Manitoba.

More than 350 claims have been filed for stakings in the Wekusko Lake area, about 50 miles northeast of here. The Pas is 350 miles northwest of Winnipeg near the Saskatchewan border.

No official assay reports of minerals from the fields have been made available. The area is also believed rich in copper-nickel, similar to that found at Lynn Lake, 200 miles north of the Pas.

In Coma 118 Days

SAGINAW — (P)—Raymond Propp, air force veteran injured in a traffic crash near Standish Nov. 3, passed his 118th day in a coma Thursday.

Physicians at Veterans' hospital here said he moves an arm or leg in response to "verbal stimulation" but shows no recognition of visitors. He has a wife and two children.

Lakes Rise Still Higher This Year; Bad For Shoreline

CLEVELAND — (P)—Owners of vulnerable lakefront property should take steps to protect it. The Great Lakes will be higher this year.

That warning was issued by Col. Wendell T. Trowser of Chicago, Great Lakes division engineer of the Corps of Engineers. He based it on consideration of the "high degree of wetness" in the areas tributary to the lakes.

Trowser said Lake Erie's level may rise as much as 18 inches over last year's average. This means a heavier beating for land exposed to the waves.

Lake Superior's level may top last year by three inches; Lakes Michigan and Huron, nine to 26 inches; and Lake Ontario up to six inches above the 1951 level.

Taft Favorite In Illinois Poll

CHICAGO — (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is favored for president by 44 to 62 candidates for Illinois delegates to the Republican national convention who participated in an Associated Press mail poll.

Gen. Eisenhower is favored by six candidates; Senator Dirksen of Illinois by five; and Gen. MacArthur by two. Five said they were undecided. Twenty-nine of the total of 91 Republican candidates for 50 seats did not answer the poll.

In a similar poll of Democratic candidates, 11 of 26 who participated said they favored President Truman for re-election. Seven favored Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and one favored Senator Douglas of Illinois. Seven said they were undecided.

Thirty-four of 60 Democratic candidates for convention delegates did not answer the poll. Since President Truman has not announced whether he is a candidate, it was believed many Democratic delegate candidates did not want to commit themselves until the situation is clarified.

Illinois Democrats and Republicans each will have 60 delegates at the national conventions.

Illinois will hold a presidential preference primary April 8, but the result is not binding on convention delegates.

Club Hunts Elk

WOLVERINE — (P)—The Wolverine Sportsmen's club will hold its annual elk hunt Sunday. The club members will hike on skis and snowshoes to nearby areas inhabited by the Michigan elk herd. The hunters will carry only field glasses and cameras. Firearms are banned. A conservation officer will accompany the hunters.

Strangled By Bed

DETROIT — (P)—George Votseos, 61, caught his neck in a folding bed and strangled to death Thursday. Police said he apparently was trying to repair the bed which is of the type that folds into the wall.

Jacobson Firm In Bankruptcy

Jack Jacobson of Glencoe, Ill., owner of the Jacobson Manufacturing company, 800 First Ave. N., Escanaba, has been declared a bankrupt on the basis of his petition filed Feb. 18 in U. S. District Court, Chicago, it was revealed today.

The furniture manufacturing firm, successor to Solar Manufacturing Company, has been operating in Escanaba since Aug. 1, 1949.

The City of Escanaba as one of the creditors has been notified that the first meeting of creditors will be held in the court house at Chicago on March 7. The creditors are notified to attend and to approve claims, to appoint a trustee, and appoint a committee of creditors.

Sept. 7, 1952, has been set by the court as the last day for filing claims.

Jacobson's indebtedness to the city totals approximately $1,800 in claims for rental, personal property taxes and two month's utility service.

The building occupied by the firm owned by the city of Escanaba and is located on Chicago & North Western Railway company land. The city originally purchased the building about 1940 to house the Solar Manufacturing company.

Besides the city there are a number of private creditors of the firm in the community who are expected to file claims against Jacobson.

Name Cast For 'Father' Play

Final rehearsals are being staged for the Escanaba High School senior class play "Life with Father" which will be presented for the general public Tuesday night at 8 at Wm. Oliver auditorium.

A preliminary production will be shown to the student body Monday evening at 7:30.

An American classic, "Life with Father" is one of the most popular plays ever to hit Broadway and its movie version has been viewed by millions. The play set an all-time Broadway record of 3,213 performances.

"Life with Father" originated as a book of character sketches written by Clarence Day Jr. about his father, a 19th century New Yorker.

Catch Humor
Full humor of the play is captured by the Escanaba students and in a fine cast headed by David Gasman as Father and Constance Gallagher as Winnie, his long-suffering if illogical wife.

Remainder of the cast has Douglas Eden as Clarence, Don Koish as John, Denis Harbath as Whitney, Robert Pomazal as Harlan, Patricia Heminger as Cora, Nancy Duchaine as Mary Skinner, Theodore Rouman as Rev. Dr. Lloyd, Glen Larson as Dr. Humphreys, Theodore Sogard as Dr. Somers, Edna Sequin as Margaret, Mary Boucher as Annie, Shirley Larsen as Della, Elaine Anderson as Nora and Patricia Dubord as Maggie.

The play is under the direction of John Romstadt.

TEACHING ABROAD—Gloucester, England, is the temporary home of the family of Ralph Plummer, a teacher who switched positions with an English high school instructor under a teacher trade program between this country and Great Britain. Mrs. Plummer is the former Pearl Hannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hannon of Wilson. Their two daughters, Mary Rose, center, and Ann, lower right, are enrolled in English schools.

Family Moves To England Under Exchange Program

A former Wilson resident and her husband have exchanged their home, their friends and their jobs with an English couple for one year.

The American couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Plummer—she is the former Pearl Hannon of Wilson and one-time teacher in Hermansville, have kept their name but have changed their address from Muskegon, Mich., to 22 Podsmead, Gloucester, England.

The switch of identity comes under a teachers' exchange program through which this country and European states trade teachers and students for the benefit of gaining the technical knowledge each of the exchanging nations have to offer.

Prior to their moving to England under the program, the Plummers were both teaching in Muskegon schools.

In Gloucester, Plummer is a teacher of English in one of the city's high schools and Mrs. Plummer is a substitute teacher.

But their activities as visiting teachers don't end there. They find themselves much in demand as speakers at Parent-Teachers' meetings and at various church group gatherings.

Arrangements Completed
Plummer first made application for the assignment with the Departments of State and Education while working on his doctor's thesis last year at the University of Michigan.

By July of 1951 all arrangements were made and the family—the Plummers have two daughters, ages 14 and six—together with their car were on their way to their new home. About the same time they arrived in England, their English counterparts took up residence in the Plummer home in Muskegon and began to prepare for their teaching stay here.

Mrs. Plummer's parents, the Samuel Hannon of Wilson, recently received a letter from the

Ray J. Besner Dies Suddenly

MANISTIQUE — Raymond J. Besner, 60, 218 Walnut St., died suddenly last night at 7:30 in the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for two hours.

A well-known Manistique resident, he was born March 5, 1892, in Naubinway. Before moving to Manistique 42 years ago, he was employed by the Soo Line in Gould City and Cooks. In Manistique he was employed as the Soo Line advisory agent.

On June 1, 1915, he married the former Eva Gilmet of Manistique. He was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church, the Knights of Columbus, the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks, and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

Surviving are his widow; two granddaughters, Jean Besner, Washington, D. C., and Delores Besner, Detroit; two brothers, William of Lufkin, Tex., and Fred Jr., Manistique; and six sisters, Mrs. Ada Griffin, Ladysmith, Wis., Mrs. Grace Esdale, East Lansing, Mrs. Evelyn Cartier, Pontiac, Mrs. Norma Nordstrom, Minneapolis, Mrs. Ruth Thero, Dearborn, and Mrs. Genevieve Norton, Manistique. Two sons, Truman and Raymond Jr., were killed in action in World War II.

The body was taken to the Kefauver-Jackson funeral home, where friends may call beginning at 3 p. m. Saturday. Funeral services have been tentatively set for Monday morning at St. Francis de Sales Church. The body will be placed in the Lakeview vault and buried next spring in the Fairview cemetery.

Visit Being Enjoyed
The Plummer children, Mary Rose, 14, and Ann, 6, needed no adjustment to English schools, the parents report, having become quickly adapted to English ways. Before the beginning of the school semester last year, the Plummers toured the continent in their American automobile, visiting the abundant spots of historical interest and recording the sights with a movie camera.

Their contract in the exchange program expires this summer when they will return to this country and resume their American identity unless they choose to renew the engagement for another year.

From Teaching Staff
Reports of the couple's teaching experiences in England meet much interest in Mrs. Plummer's family where three other members are in the teaching profession.

Her father, now retired, is a former teacher in several Delta county schools; a brother, Herbert, is a professor of mathematics in Kalamazoo Teachers' College; and another brother, Roger, is a journalism instructor in River Rouge (Mich.) High School.

She met and married Plummer while both were teaching in Muskegon High School. After her graduation from high school here, Mrs. Plummer attended Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette from which she received her BA degree in 1932. After several years of teaching she began work on her master's degree and received it in 1946 at the University of Michigan.

Council Ballot Form Approved

Meeting yesterday afternoon in special session on the Escanaba city council approved the form of the city council election ballot to be submitted to the voters on April 7.

Action by the council was based on an opinion received from City Attorney Denis McGinn.

Four city council seats are at stake in the election.

Terms of three councilmen—Robert E. LeMire, S. R. Wickman and Nevin Reynolds—expire this year.

The fourth seat was left vacant at the death of the late Peter N. Logan, whose term will continue to April, 1954. Councilman Ed Cox was named to fill the vacancy until the April election this year.

On the ballot there will be candidates for the three full terms of four years each; and candidates for the unexpired two-year term.

On their nominating petitions and on the ballot the candidates must show whether they are running for the full term or the unexpired term.

Council candidates have until March 18 to file nominating petitions. The petitions must carry the signatures of at least 50 qualified electors. There is no primary.

In other business yesterday the council set the pay of members of the board of review, whose sessions open Monday, at $15 per day. Three supervisors and the mayor comprise the board of review to hear complaints and to make adjustments assessed valuations.

National Honor To Stephenson

The community of Stephenson and the surrounding area has been awarded top national honors in the 1951 School Executive's National Competition for Community Improvement.

The competition was open to any school system and community in the United States and Canada. More than sixty school systems in the United States representing twenty-eight states entered the contest. Five communities and their school systems were awarded national honors.

They were: (1) Stephenson, Michigan; (2) Orangeburg, South Carolina; (3) Lepanto, Arkansas; (4) Baltimore, Maryland; and (5) Baker, Oregon.

Five school systems and their communities received honorable mention: (1) Bellevue, Washington; (2) Contra Costa Junior College, Martinez, California; (3) Duluth, Minnesota; (4) Oakland, California; and (5) Tyler, Texas.

The communities with top national honors will be awarded a bronze plaque and a citation scroll. It is planned to make the actual awards at appropriate and suitable ceremonies held in each of the respective communities at a later date.

A panel of three judges evaluated the entries. Two were past presidents of the American Association of School Administrators and one a past president of the National Education Association. The judges are: Howard Pillsbury, formerly superintendent of schools of Schenectady, New York; A. C. Flora, formerly superintendent of schools at Columbia, South Carolina; Willard Goslin, formerly superintendent of schools at Pasadena, California.

The purpose of the national contest was to stimulate school systems to give increasing attention to the improvement of their communities.

Stephenson's national honor was awarded to the school community and the surrounding area for its record in school and community improvements from 1946 to 1951. It was during this period that the community area was active in the Community School Service program in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction at Lansing and the Kellogg Foundation at Battle Creek.

Leap Year 'Babies' Have Another Birthday

ANNIVERSARY YEAR — Actual birthday anniversaries are few and far between for the three persons pictured — all of them born on Feb. 29.

Marshall Francis Sodergren (right) points to his birth date, his second anniversary although he was born on Feb. 29, 1944. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sodergren of Riverview and attends Newhall school.

His grandmother, Mrs. Frank Chouinard (left) is also a "Leap Year baby" and has had only 16 actual birthday anniversaries since she was born in Escanaba 64 years ago. She has resided in this area all her life and her home has been at Riverview for the past 43 years.

A four-year-old who celebrates her birthday today is Monna Lyn Furton (below), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Furton of Flat Rock. Monna was born Feb. 29, 1948, in Menominee.

On the ballot there will be candidates for the three full terms of four years each; and candidates for the unexpired two-year term.

Maintenance Of Bus Service Is Jeopardized By Operating Losses

ONCE again Escanaba is confronted with a serious problem involving the bus transportation system. Continuation of local bus service is jeopardized by financial losses in operating the bus line.

The bus company has reported an operating loss of $6,000 last year. On several previous occasions maintenance of the bus service was under similar jeopardy. A change in ownership two years ago forestalled discontinuance of the service.

The problem is more serious now than before because the record of unprofitable operation under several managements is not likely to attract any prospective purchasers.

It is obvious, as the present management has pointed out, that further increases in the fare will not solve the problem. On the contrary, new fare hikes would almost certainly destroy the business. If sufficient passengers to meet operating expenses cannot be attracted to the buses at a 15c local fare, it is fairly certain that they will not be attracted at a higher rate.

The crux of the problem is simply that there are not enough people who ride the buses regularly to make the franchise a profitable one.

A public transportation system, however, is important to Escanaba. If the service is discontinued—and that seems extremely likely now—the loss of the service will be keenly felt by a lot of people.

There is no easy solution to the problem. Perhaps there is no solution at all. It is not likely that the city itself will come to the rescue of the bus company by means of subsidy. There is a question of legality of such action, even if the city council were inclined to go along on such a plan. At the moment, we doubt that the council would give such a proposal more than a passing thought.

John Marshall Said It All

KARL MARX, the intellectual father of Communism, devised a ten-plank platform whereby, he believed, the capitalist or free enterprise economic system, with its right of private ownership of property, could be destroyed. Two of these plans dealt with taxation and ran as follows: 1. A heavy progressive or graduated income tax. 2. Abolition of all right of inheritance—that is, a 100 per cent inheritance tax.

We have not yet reached the entire Communist objective, but we have come an ominously long way along the road. Today the tax on individual incomes runs to a high of 92 per cent—and its minimum is 22.2 per cent on incomes of not over $2,000. The corporation tax is 52 per cent, to which 30 per cent more is added for so-called "excess profits." And the inheritance taxes are very steep.

It is this situation which has stirred up so much support for a constitutional amendment to limit the taxing power of Congress. The proposed amendment fixes the rate at 25 per cent, and provides that it can be raised to a higher level in the event of such an emergency as war.

Destruction of free enterprise and truly representative government can be accomplished by drying up the economic resources that maintain them. That is what our insane fiscal policy is doing now. John Marshall said it all when he said that the power to tax is the power to destroy.

The main purpose of French politicians appears to be to put off the hard day of reckoning when Germans actually must be allowed to shoulder guns again.

Nevertheless, it is hardly possible that France can now reserve itself and turn away from a European army with German representation. As a member of NATO it has given its official stamp to the project. Henceforth the seal thus placed upon the plan by France and the other NATO powers cannot help but serve as a pressure upon them to execute their commitments—to make the army a reality.

If this action in Lisbon is indeed to be seen by the world as more than a hollow gesture, the NATO countries most directly concerned must now proceed with promptitude to demolish the French and German barriers standing in the way.

The European army plan was conceived in fear. But it cannot be translated into life with so negative a handicap. Having embraced the program, the free nations of NATO must now infuse it with tough substance and endow it with all the high and positive purpose it merits as a contribution toward the unity of Europe.

There are many causes for falling hair, but among them is a condition known medically as seborrhea. Seborrhea is commonly divided into two varieties; one, dry seborrhea, or dandruff, and the other, oily seborrhea. Both of these conditions are more common in the scalp than elsewhere, but may extend down to the eyebrows, face, and even other parts of the body.

In oily seborrhea, the hair and scalp feel greasy and are hard to keep clean because dirt floating in the air sticks, and the hair follicles tend to clog up with oil and tiny scales of skin, dirt and the like. This certainly does not make for healthy scalp or hair.

What is responsible for either form of seborrhea has not been determined. No living parasite or germ has been identified, though there are reasons to believe that some kind of infection may be at least partially at fault. However, seborrhea of either kind commonly starts after the general health has been lowered by such things as infection or fatigue.

Anemia, constipation, indigestion, lack of fresh air and exercise, and the wearing of stiff and ill-ventilated hats are also believed to contribute to the development of seborrhea. All these can be considered as predisposing causes.

There is no easy or quick cure for seborrhea. If some chronic, weakening disease is present, it should, of course be treated. Also such conditions as anemia or constipation should be taken care of.

Other than such obvious lines of attack, treatment is aimed at improving the general health and at local treatment of the scalp and involved skin itself.

In the first category, open-air exercise and sunlight are often helpful. Tonics and nutritious food, cod-liver oil, adequate sleep, and any other measures aimed at improving the general physique are worthwhile.

The local treatment of seborrhea involves first the removal of the crusts and accumulated fatty material and later use of stimulating applications. The removal of the crusts and debris at first may be accompanied by the loss of a good deal of hair.

The fatty accumulations are first soaked with some oily fluid to aid in removal. This is followed by thorough and frequent washing with soap and water.

Sulphur, resorcin, salicylic acid and mercury preparations are frequently used in the form of ointments or lotions after the removal of the scales. The condition frequently resists treatment and tends to come back unless treatment is continued for weeks or months after the skin appears to be normal.

Manistique—Lee Stewart, Schoolcraft county agricultural agent since 1927, resigned that position to take one in the Rural Settlement Administration in Escanaba.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman had a frank exchange the other day with Catholic Congressman Clement Zablocki of Wisconsin regarding Truman's blast at Dictator Franco of Spain. Congressman Zablocki didn't approve of the President's action and bluntly said so.

"It was most unfortunate that your remarks were made about the same time that General Eisenhower also spoke out against Spain," declared the Wisconsin legislator. "I naturally feel that we are going to get more out of the dollars we spend for aiding Atlantic Pact nations if Spain belongs to the pact. I agree that conditions in Spain are none too happy, but Yugoslavia isn't a democracy either and yet we have given Tito millions in aid."

Truman replied that his criticism was directed solely at Franco and not at the Spanish people. Franco was chiefly responsible for the "intolerance" suffered by what he called "that minority of minorities"—about 30,000 Spanish Protestants.

"In some parts of Spain Protestants can't even bury their dead during the day or mark their graves with tombstones for fear of inciting demonstrations," declared Truman. "Dictatorships encourage that sort of thing."

Zablocki agreed the situation was "regrettable," but added:

"We have the problem right here in the United States. Catholics, Jews and Negroes, or, for that matter, anybody with a foreign-sounding name, are badly treated in our Ku Klux areas. We have been reading lately about ruffians stoning synagogues."

"Unfortunately, that is true," agreed Truman, but went on to point out that he, as President, was doing everything possible to stamp out intolerance while Franco wasn't lifting a finger.

"As President of the United States," he said, "I will not compromise with the persecution of minorities either in this country or anywhere in the world."

Zablocki observed that the situation in Spain could be corrected a lot quicker if we took Spain into the Atlantic pact; but the President disagreed. He said he had his doubts about any real religious tolerance as long as Franco remained dictator.

TAFT BATTLES BRADLEY

Senator Taft is conducting his private war against the joint chiefs of staff not only in public speeches, but behind closed doors. He even singled out General Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, for special attack the other day during a private session of the joint committee on the economic report.

Sen. Ralph Flanders, Vermont Republican, gave Taft an opening by protesting: "I have no confidence whatever that the natural professional way of thinking... will ever be satisfied with any scale of military development and expenditure. It is just in the nature of the case that they should not be."

Immediately Taft interceded. "My confidence in the joint chiefs of staff is somewhat upset," he said, "when I read the testimony of the chairman of the joint chiefs two years ago in March where he said in his opinion 15 billion dollars was completely adequate for the security of the United States, and that if he recommended 30 billion for the armed forces, he ought to be dismissed as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff."

"That was just two years ago today," opined Taft. "It shakes your confidence as to whether he is right now."

Taft neglected to mention that he was in the vanguard of those who, before the Korean war, put the heat on Bradley and the military to curtail their budget.

FORGOTTEN MEN

The conference on psychological strategy heard a candid report on the shoddy treatment of Iron Curtain escapees from a man who had a ringside seat—Philip E. Ryan, former chief of mission of the International Refugee Organization.

"They exist in overcrowded camps with little hope for emigration, practically no possibility for employment, and no means at their disposal to fight back at the thing (Communism) which has broken their lives," reported Ryan.

With regard to their "policy" on refugees, Ryan explained: "On the one hand, we apparently encourage flight from intolerable conditions under Communism. The picture of life in the west is tantamount to an invitation to 'come over to our side.'"

"Once they are in the west, however, we renounce responsibility. After we have milked them of any information they can give us, they are turned over to the German government, which already is burdened with over 9,000,000 German refugees."

Here tropical fish are king. The tanks are crystal clear and house an infinite variety of fishes. You'll see guppies at 25 cents apiece and, in the larger stores, come-on items like electric eels at $2000 and evil-looking, toothy piranhas that like to eat people and carry a $750 price tag.

But guppies are only for beginners, and eels and piranhas only for millionaires. Although some enthusiasts eventually build up collections valued in the thousands, with four or five 150-gallon tanks, the average collector is about halfway between that and the glass bowl.

It is this average fish fancier that is the backbone of the industry. He goes in for the standard fishes—things like mollies, bettas, barbs, tetras and platies—which come in all shapes, sizes, colors and prices.

In size, they range from the mosquito fish, which is about one-quarter of an inch long and bears live young that can be seen only under a microscope, to the discus fish, a round creature that reaches 10 inches in diameter and sells for about $100 a pair.

In color, they range from the coal blackness of the black molly to the pale whitish pink of the kissing gourami. Some are solid colors and some striped or spotted or splattered with color. Some are drab and some—like the brilliant neon fish with its shining blue-green and red stripes—sparkle like jewels in the tank.

In shape, they range from the slimmest of the pencil fish, which stands on its nose and looks like its name, to the angel fish which, with its trailing fins, is taller than it is long. And there are curiosities, like sea horses, which need salt water, and the blind cave fish.

But only one-third of a tropical fish store's business, Straus estimates, is in actual fish. The majority of the sales are accessories. First come the makings of a comfortable home for the fish—tanks, plants, colored sand and rocks, heating and filtering and aerating equipment to keep the water clear.

Then there is food. Most hobbyists use a prepared food containing such tidbits as dried flies. Advanced collectors advise an occasional switch to live food, like a tiny worm called tubifex which is sold by the portion. A portion is a clump of a few thousand worms that costs around 50 cents.

Medicines are another big item, because fish are subject to disease. The chief enemy of fish is a fungus infection, called ichthyophthirius—the fish people sensibly call it just "ick"—which produces little light spots and, ultimately, dead fish. Many patent medicines claim to control "ick," as well as other fishy disorders.

Lastly, there are ornaments for the tank. These may be simple things like anchors and ceramic gadgets, or they can be elaborate decal which are applied to one whole side of the tank and make it look like an ocean floor. The fish don't seem to care, one way or the other.

Many home hobbyists, particularly those with larger installations, like to breed their own fish. About half the tropical fish are egg layers, half bear their young live. The true fish fancier takes a stab at both.

Breeding on a large scale is carried on by the big fish producers, who have tremendous layouts in the warmer climates of Florida and California. Live bearers are bred in vast outdoor pools, covered with netting to prevent the birds from eating up the profits. The egg bearers are bred in greenhouse-type indoor arrangements.

Nowadays, three-quarters of the fish sold here are bred here. But there is still an extensive importing business, largely from the Amazon River area of South America. Since non-edible fish are exempt from duty, they can be brought in in any quantity. Brazilian natives gather the fish, bring them to collection depots along the Amazon River, and then the fish are flown out.

The increase in popularity of tropical fish is due, fish fanciers feel, chiefly to the fact that it is an adaptable hobby. You can start with a glass bowl, a pair of guppies, and an assortment of plants, sand and food for a few dollars. Or you can buy fancy collections for around $100.

You can just keep them in the tank without any work, or you can putter around with breeding and changing installations as much as you want. You can use fish as just a hobby, or put the tank in a piece of furniture as a decorative touch in your home. They're clean, odorless, inexpensive to keep and fascinating to watch.

And you don't have to house-break a fish.

"Where'd They Ever Get That Idea?"

Home Aquariums Boom Tropical Fish Into Whale Of A Business

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — For years, the standing joke in the tropical fish industry has been that business is getting along swimmingly. It's more than just a joke today; that little goldfish bowl on your living room table has boomed into a whale of a business that runs into the millions.

It's hard to pinpoint the growth. The census bureau doesn't have pet fish and guppies don't have to register for the draft. But the best guess among men who know fish best is that between 10 and 20 million people share their homes with fish these days, about twice as many as did so 10 years ago.

The business of supplying these fish and then keeping them happy with food, plants, medicines and assorted accessories has grown accordingly. The Aquarium Stock Co., one of the largest in the field, estimates that its own business has quadrupled since 1945.

Irving Straus, president of the Aquarium Institute of America, says that any estimate of the industry's annual dollar volume is "purely a wild guess." His own purely wild guess is that the tropical fish business is now a $50,000,000-a-year industry. And it's growing.

The last few years has seen the coming of the tropical fish store. Most fish were—and still are—bought in pet stores, from a rusty, cloudy tank in a back corner, behind the parrots. But the latest New York classified telephone directory lists 22 all-fish stores, and the Aquarium outfit estimates that of the 3500 stores in America that sell fish, 100 sell no other pets.

Here tropical fish are king. The tanks are crystal clear and house an infinite variety of fishes. You'll see guppies at 25 cents apiece and, in the larger stores, come-on items like electric eels at $2000 and evil-looking, toothy piranhas that like to eat people and carry a $750 price tag.

But guppies are only for beginners, and eels and piranhas only for millionaires. Although some enthusiasts eventually build up collections valued in the thousands, with four or five 150-gallon tanks, the average collector is about halfway between that and the glass bowl.

It is this average fish fancier that is the backbone of the industry. He goes in for the standard fishes—things like mollies, bettas, barbs, tetras and platies—which come in all shapes, sizes, colors and prices.

In size, they range from the mosquito fish, which is about one-quarter of an inch long and bears live young that can be seen only under a microscope, to the discus fish, a round creature that reaches 10 inches in diameter and sells for about $100 a pair.

In color, they range from the coal blackness of the black molly to the pale whitish pink of the kissing gourami. Some are solid colors and some striped or spotted or splattered with color. Some are drab and some—like the brilliant neon fish with its shining blue-green and red stripes—sparkle like jewels in the tank.

In shape, they range from the slimmest of the pencil fish, which stands on its nose and looks like its name, to the angel fish which, with its trailing fins, is taller than it is long. And there are curiosities, like sea horses, which need salt water, and the blind cave fish.

But only one-third of a tropical fish store's business, Straus estimates, is in actual fish. The majority of the sales are accessories. First come the makings of a comfortable home for the fish—tanks, plants, colored sand and rocks, heating and filtering and aerating equipment to keep the water clear.

Then there is food. Most hobbyists use a prepared food containing such tidbits as dried flies. Advanced collectors advise an occasional switch to live food, like a tiny worm called tubifex which is sold by the portion. A portion is a clump of a few thousand worms that costs around 50 cents.

Medicines are another big item, because fish are subject to disease. The chief enemy of fish is a fungus infection, called ichthyophthirius—the fish people sensibly call it just "ick"—which produces little light spots and, ultimately, dead fish. Many patent medicines claim to control "ick," as well as other fishy disorders.

Lastly, there are ornaments for the tank. These may be simple things like anchors and ceramic gadgets, or they can be elaborate decal which are applied to one whole side of the tank and make it look like an ocean floor. The fish don't seem to care, one way or the other.

SEARCH FOR POWER—The Escanaba community is in the peculiar position of being an unwanted electric customer.

It is one of the largest users of electric power in the Upper Peninsula and the city has its own electric distribution system.

For many years the city has purchased current wholesale under long term contract from the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, now a subsidiary of the Mead Corporation. The present contract will expire in 1958.

Within the past year the company informed the city that it no longer wishes to supply the city with power. The city had better start looking elsewhere for its electricity before 1958.

The question before the Escanaba city council is one not quickly or easily solved—particularly since there are no other sources of electric power within the immediate area.

ONE CHEAP SOURCE—The search for electric energy is, however, not entirely peculiar to the Escanaba community. It is regional in its vexing problem.

The Marquette area has been plagued by power shortages for many years. Some hydroelectric output, supplementing electricity produced by other forms of power, has eked out supply for the area by a slender margin.

The Upper Peninsula may have lost population and its industries may be dwindling, but there remains the healthy condition of economy manifest by increasing electrical consumption.

The cheapest source of power to generate electric current is water. Unfortunately the Escanaba river, already harnessed by the Upper Peninsula Power & Light company, is limited in power capacity.

THE VAST TAHQUAMENON—While the Escanaba is the only large river in the central U. P. section and the Menominee and other rivers to the south and west are already developed for power output, there is one of the larger rivers to the east still unobstructed by a single power dam.

It is the vast Tahquamenon, heading northwest of Newberry and flowing strongly and steadily eastward to tumble over two falls and empty into Whitefish Bay on Lake Superior.

The river's many tributaries rising in forest and swamp give the Tahquamenon flowage with little seasonal variation. For much of its swamp-bordered length there are no cabins or cottages, no farms or other developments that would be harmed by the impounding of the water.

Tourists on sight-seeing boat trips and an occasional deer or muskrat along the river banks are the only signs of life.

TO THE FUTURE—Without water, the cheapest source of generator-turning power, electrical engineers must turn to fuels such as coal and oil. Both are comparatively costly.

Possibility that natural gas from Canada will be piped to the Upper Peninsula is remote and even if it were it would be fuel too expensive to use in generating electricity.

Atomic energy? Still in the initial experimental stages and practically out of the picture at the present time.

REGIONAL PROBLEM—Escanaba's difficulty, which could become critical within a few nights, highlights a problem that is essentially regional.

Vast distances, long transmission lines, sparse population can be compensated for only by low-cost electrical production.

Hydroelectric power—the harnessing of every available source in the region—will become increasingly imperative as time passes. The untapped Tahquamenon may yet be called into service.

If the U. P. region is declining, as some statistics indicate, new industries can be lured only by the offer of ample electric power at reasonable rates. The fortunes of the whole region may rise or fall depending on that factor alone.

READERS ASK QUESTIONS

DePere, Wis.—"May one say that a paper to which a notary public has placed his seal has been 'notarized,' or should it be 'notarized'?"—Miss I. L.

Answer—Although an attempt was made about twenty-five years ago to convert "notary" into a verb, and thus to speak of a paper having been "notarized," the effort did not meet with popular favor. "To notarize" (NO-tur-ize), however, did become generally accepted in America and was recorded by 1931 in some dictionaries. All recent American dictionaries now contain it.

Question—"What is the origin and meaning of the expression 'by and large'?"—R. R. G.

Answer—Originally, this was applied to sailing vessels, meaning in the general direction of the wind, that is, within six points; to

Today Is The Day Says Judy Immor To Classify Eligibles

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — This being leap year, and today being the day, Judy Immor decided it was a good time to discuss eligibles males.

Judy is president of the fashion models of Southern California. She and the girls have been talking about husband material, she said, and found they boiled down to five desirable types.

She named an example for each type, too, but quickly noted that each is happily married. "That's the natural," she said. "They would be."

Her picks:

Just As Easy

Huntington Hartford, food chain heir and patron of the arts: "Has more than a million dollars, youth and good looks. Any girl marrying a Huntington Hartford would prove that it is just as easy to love a rich man."

Gov. Earl Warren of California: "Combines paternal compatibility with political prowess. His type is perhaps the most difficult to find in today's bachelor market. His type won't stay single long."

Actor Tony Dexter: "Satisfies the animal instinct in every woman; a composite of virility and male dominance. Every woman wants a bit of the beast in her husband."

Love Is The Thing!

Renzo Cesana, TV's "The Continental": "Cesana can speak to a girl's soul, without even talking. When a girl latches on to this kind of man, she is convinced there is nothing more important than love."

Ralph Kiner, baseball star: "The clean-living American man that too many girls tend to ignore; thoughtful, unselfish and perhaps the easiest male to live with."

Devotions And Prayer At Bethany During Lent

Special hours of devotion and prayer have been arranged for the Lenten season at Bethany Ev. Lutheran church, the Rev. Gustav Lund, pastor, announced today.

The chimes will ring each morning at 10 as the Bethany staff gathers for devotions. The public is invited to join in this prayer service or to devote a moment to prayer wherever they are. The chimes will also ring on Friday and Saturday at 7 p. m., the church will be lighted and the public is invited to stop in for a few moments of prayer and a reading of the Passion of our Lord.

The pastor will also use this hour to meet with members who are doing visitation work in the parish or for private consultation by appointment.

Anyone interested in church membership should join a class meeting at the parsonage chapel (east door) on Sundays at 4 p. m. and Tuesdays at 7 p. m.

"Voices of the Passion" is the subject of a series of studies to be given at the Lenten services held weekly at the church, 11th St. and 1st Ave. South, at 7:15 p. m. and at the Bethany Chapel, Corner of 13th Ave. North and 18th St. on Sunday at 7:15 p. m. These will begin March 9. This coming week Bethany joins in the Bible Conference.

Jobless Total Higher In 1952

Unemployment in Schoolcraft County is several per cent higher this winter than last, it is reported by Whitney Dixon, manager of the Escanaba office of the Michigan Employment Service Commission.

Unemployment reported on Feb. 15, 1952, totaled 275 as compared with 250 a year ago. Unemployed persons registered with the commission numbered 175 on Feb. 15. In February, 1951, the registration was 221 but this figure is misleading inasmuch as many persons not normally employed, such as housewives, had registered during a Chamber of Commerce campaign to compile a list of potential defense workers, Dixon pointed out.

Total weekly claims paid by the commission this winter is running about 140 compared to 129 a year ago.

As of Feb. 15 the total number of persons in the county employed, including self-employed, domestics and wage and salary workers, was 2,475.

Industrial payrolls totaled 490 and non-manufacturing concerns employed 1,519. A total of 410 women were listed as being employed.

Domestic and self-employed persons totaled 466. The total non-farm labor force in the county was listed at 2,750 by the Escanaba office.

Dixon said that a decrease of about 100 in the unemployment roll was expected in April. This decrease would continue gradually throughout the summer until a normal October low was reached. About Dec. 1, he said, unemployment would normally start to rise again.

Harry Williams, Former Editor Here, Is Called

Harry B. Williams, former editor of the Courier Record and the Pioneer-Tribune in Manistique, passed away at Syracuse, N. Y., on Jan. 22, according to word received here yesterday.

Williams spent several years in Manistique around the end of World War I, serving first as editor of the now defunct Courier Record and later editing and managing the Pioneer-Tribune.

He died at the home of his son, Ralph, at the age of 82. Funeral services were held Jan. 25 in Paw Paw, Mich.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mabel Chaffee Williams, of Paw Paw, formerly a Manistique public school teacher, and one son.

City Briefs

Mrs. Edward Hull and daughter, Martha, 107 River St., left today for Chicago where they will visit relatives. Mrs. Hull also will attend a birthday party for her son, Edward, who will be a year old next Tuesday.

Miss Doris Ann Johnson, of Thompson, is a surgical patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Vendia Haggman and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green have returned to their home in Lansing after visiting here for a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lundstrom, Arbutus Ave., have left for a five-weeks' trip to Arkansas, Florida and Texas. While in Florida they will meet their son, Charles, who will spend a 6-day furlough with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ohlen, of Munising, were visitors in Manistique Thursday.

The convention was held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Saginaw and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Linderth. A total of 900 photographs were submitted of which only 375 were hung.

Free Methodists To Have World Day Of Prayer Friday Night

A World Day of Prayer service will be held at the Free Methodist Church tonight, starting at 7:30. Rev. S. Needle, of Engadine, will be the speaker.

The service is under the direction of the Women's Missionary Society.

Packer Star To Address Club

Charles J. Brock, all pro center with the Green Bay Packers, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Manistique Quarterback Club next Tuesday evening, it is announced by L. E. Wilson, club president.

The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the banquet room of Denny's restaurant following a regular session of the Lions Club. Lions will be invited to remain to hear Brock.

The Packer star also will show a motion picture on Packer highlights during the 1951 season.

Three Local Women In Practical Nurse Course At Marquette

Three Manistique young women are included in the class of 27 students who enrolled recently in the Upper Peninsula Center for Practical Nurse Education, Marquette, it is announced.

They are Mary Margaret Barker, Theresa Hoholik and Loreen Winsor.

Unless there are more applications than can be handled in one class, the next course will begin in September, according to Miss Elizabeth R. Vickers, U. P. director of the program. Some applications have already been received, and Miss Vickers stresses that they will be considered in the order in which they come in. When about 25 have been accepted a class will be considered closed.

Milk Fund Benefit Band Concert To Be Presented Wednesday

A benefit concert for the public school milk fund will be presented next Wednesday evening, March 5, by the Manistique Municipal Band.

The concert will be given in the high school auditorium, starting at 8. The program will be announced later.

Capacity Crowd Attends First Lenten Service

A capacity crowd attended the first service in the community Lenten series Wednesday night at the Free Methodist Church.

The Rev. S. B. Dickinson, Free Methodist pastor, spoke on the topic, "Voice of the Mob", in the absence of the Rev. Peter Porta, of Gulliver, who was ill.

The speaker pointedly emphasized that while the multitude jeered Christ because he saved others but could not save himself, it was His mission to do the will of God by going to the Cross, a ransom for all people in a world of sin.

Second in the Lenten series, sponsored by the Manistique Ministerial Association, will be held Wednesday evening, March 5, at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Porta will speak at this time, using the topic, "Mary, The Mother of Jesus."

Obituary

PETER LASICH

Funeral services for Peter Lasich, who died Wednesday morning at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from St. Francis de Sales Church. Services initially were scheduled for 10 a. m. today from the Kefauver and Jackson Funeral Home. The body will be placed in Lakeview vault and will be buried next spring in Lakeview cemetery.

Rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 7 tonight.

4-H is a good investment

4-H Club work is an investment in the future of America. And many farmers, teachers and homemakers in Schoolcraft County are investing their time and effort as leaders of this great movement.

We salute the 47 leaders of Schoolcraft County on the occasion of National 4-H Club Week, March 1 to 9. Well done, 4-H Leaders.

Local 4-H Club leaders receive no pay—but we pay our respects to them and offer our hearty congratulations for a job well done.

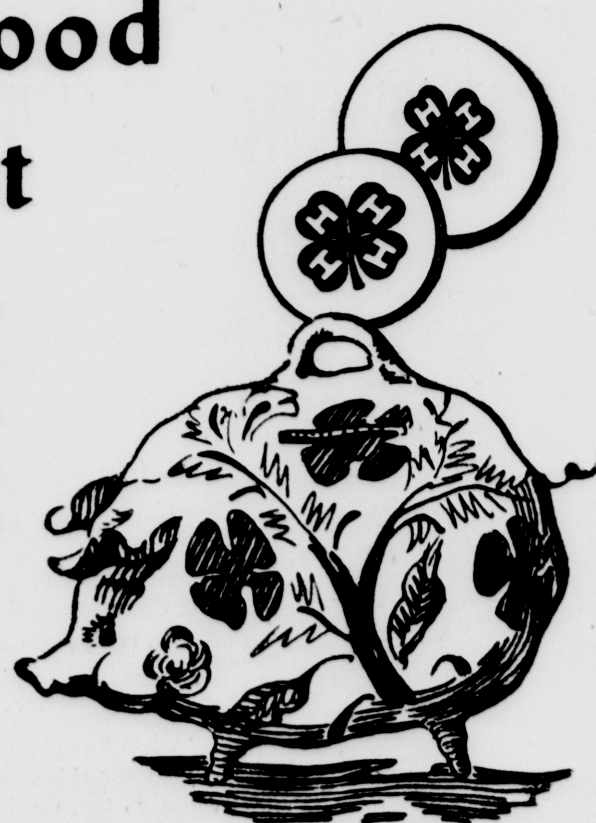

Their volunteer service demonstrates Americanism at its best in this great nation of ours.

In Schoolcraft County there are 18 active clubs, with 166 girls and 131 boys. Under the guidance of their unpaid leaders they are learning how to be better and more useful citizens.

Sam Levy, Milwaukee Journal staff writer covering the Chicago Golden Gloves boxing tournament, gave this account of the bout in which Francis Selling of Manistique was eliminated Tuesday night: "Selling fought aggressively in the first two rounds. He never stopped swinging and finished stronger than the winner. Moynihan, a target for Selling's two fisted attack in the first round, retreated and jabbed weakly. Just before the bell he was rocked with a volley of rights and lefts to the head.

"Selling rushed across the ring at the start of round two and saluted Moynihan with a swinging right to the head. Moynihan was content to trade left jabs for roundhouse rights. Late in the round he caught Selling with several jabs and finished with a dandy left uppercut to the jaw.

"Blood trickled from Selling's nose as he came out for the final frame. Moynihan's left jab had only nuisance value but his left hook carried authority. Selling tired after the first minute and lost ground by catching left jabs and occasional rights. He rallied to finish strong and the decision against him was a surprise to many."

From that description it sounds a lot like Selling won the fight in Chicago. . . . He at least turned in a better performance than most of the other Milwaukee champions who lost by wide margins or were stopped on KOs. . . . The only Milwaukee champion to win a bout in Chicago was Willie Christian, classy colored fighter who knocked out Ralph Butler of Sault Ste. Marie in the Milwaukee Journal tournament. . . . The Milwaukee heavyweight champion, Pfc. Charles Schneider of Camp McCoy, who was loaded with three individual trophies following the Journal tournament, lost his first fight in Chicago.

MANISTIQUE CHAMPIONS — Two of Manistique's Golden Gloves champions pictured above will headline the inter-city boxing match to be held at the high school gym tomorrow night. Francis Selling, right, faces Ken Campbell of the Menominee-Marquette stable in the windup. Selling won the Escanaba and Milwaukee open division welterweight titles and lost a close decision in Chicago this week. Harvard Lancour, center, is the Upper Michigan and Wisconsin novice lightweight title holder.

Hawks And Sentinels Battle For Third In Hockey League Tonight

Battle for third place in the Northern Michigan Hockey League will take place at the fairgrounds indoor rink tonight at 9 o'clock when the Escanaba Hawks cross sticks with the Marquette Sentinels.

Button Has Large Lead

PARIS — (AP) — Dick Button, boasting a commanding lead, goes after his fifth straight men's world figure skating crown tonight while a new champion will be crowned in the women's division.

Button, Olympic winner in 1948 and in the recently completed games at Oslo, Norway, piled up a huge advantage in the compulsory figures yesterday.

The Englewood, N. J., star collected seven place points from each of the seven judges for six compulsory figures to draw far ahead of European champion Helmut Seibt of Austria.

Tonight's final test will be the free-skating event at which Button is in a class by himself. Button clinched the Olympic championship with an unprecedented "triple loop" in which he made three complete body revolutions in the air and landed on one skate.

A near record field of 25 will shoot for the women's crown which Jeannette Altwegg of Great Britain abdicated. Miss Altwegg hung up her skates after winning the Olympic title.

Tenley Albright, a 16-year-old school girl from Newton Center, Mass., making her second start in a world meet, is a slight favorite to win the championship. She finished second to Miss Altwegg in the Olympics.

Gwinn Posts 81-57 Win Over Pierce; Finishes Unbeaten

MARQUETTE — (Special) — The Gwinn Model Towners concluded their undefeated basketball season with a vengeance here last night by walloping Marquette Pierce 81-57.

It was the 18th straight win for Gwinn. The Model Towners of Coach Dominic Ghiardi poured 31 points through the net in the final period to turn the game into a rout.

Game officials were Dick Schram of Escanaba and Wallace Cameron of Gladstone.

Soo Miss Posts First Round Win In Golf Tourney

ORLANDO BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Medalist Vonnice Colby of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., scored a 3 and 2 first round victory here yesterday over Liz Ridge, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., in the Women's South Atlantic golf tournament.

In another first round match, Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., eliminated Ruth Stricker, of Detroit, 6 and 4.

The Sault Ste. Marie golfer will join other first round winners today in two 18-hole rounds of competition. Another 18-holes will be played Saturday in the semifinals and finalists will play 36-holes Sunday.

Chevs Edge CIO By 35-30 In City Loop

MANISTIQUE — The Chevs spurred for 14 points in the third quarter here last night to break away from a 19-19 knot at half-time and then fized to two points in the final quarter but had enough to nip the CIO quint 35-30 in a city league cage clash.

Makinen of the Chevs was high point man with 15. Patz had 10 for CIO.

St. Joe Trojans Play At Negaunee Tonight

St. Joe's high-scoring Trojans take to the road tonight to face Negaunee St. Paul in the spacious new Negaunee Memorial gym.

The Trojans are seeking their sixth straight win since losing to the Escanaba Eskymos in mid-season. They've lost two of 14 games to date.

Coach Tom St. Germain's charges will conclude the regular season in a home stand against Rock tomorrow night at Bonifas gym. Reserved seat tickets have been on sale this week and are available at St. Joe rectory.

Revamped Lineup

Illness of Bill Baker this week caused Coach St. Germain to revamp his starting lineup somewhat. Starting at forwards will be Jim Gravelle and Dick Cass. Pete Kutches will be at center, John Martinac and Bob Sendenburgh at guards.

In a previous meeting with St. Paul the Trojans emerged with a 72-53 victory in the Parochial High School tournament at Marquette.

Kutches, second highest scorer in the Upper Peninsula with an average of 28.4 per game, will have an opportunity to gain on the No. 1 point producer, Norbert Purol of St. Ambrose, in his two final games. Purol has scored 556 points in 19 games for an average of 29.2 per game.

St. Paul and St. Joe Bee teams will meet in a preliminary at 7 tonight.

Drugs Top Al's Quint 63 To 52

A seven-point halftime lead, 28-21, failed to hold up here in the second and third quarters and Al's Tavern fell 63-52 to a visiting Kingsford quint.

The Drugs outscored Al's 22-16 in the third period to narrow the deficit to one point. In the last period the Drugs poured 19 points through the hoop to eight for Al's.

Forward Jack Courneene snared high point honors for Al's with 15 on seven buckets and a free throw. Bill Johnson had 13 for the Drugs.

A return game will be played Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Kingsford.

Rodman's Foxes In Tourney Win

The Rodman's Bar Foxes of Hermansville hurdled their first tournament obstacle in the Green Bay WBAY meet last night, dumping favored Wausau 64-56 to move into the semi-finals against the Spot Bar of Two Rivers Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Wausau, unbeaten in 12 previous games this season, opened fast and piled up an 18-10 lead in the first period. The Foxes rushed back with 21 points in the second frame and cut the margin to 32-31 at halftime.

Rodman's outscored the taller Wausau team in both second half periods. Steve Machalk and Chick Gerrish of Hermansville led both quints in scoring with 20 and 19 points.

FIRST IN HISTORY — The Nahma Arrows racked up their first undefeated basketball season in history last night by edging the Rapid River Rockets 61-55 for victory No. 17. Coach Harold Anderson's Arrows had to stave off a tremendous rally that brought the Rockets out of a 22-point deficit at one stage of the game.

Nahma Ends Unbeaten Season With 61 To 55 Win Over Rapid River

It was the first time in the 21-year history of the sport at Nahma High School that a team swept through all of its regular season games without a loss. And it climaxed an undefeated season by trimming the Rapid River Rockets 61-55.

The Community Club gym swelled at the seams as a jam-packed crowd took in the historical event. The victory was No. 17 for the Arrows to send them into district tournament play in a favored role at Rapid River next Wednesday night.

Near-Upset

Coach Norman Slough's Rockets, however, almost threw a monkey wrench into the works in a hectic final period that had the spectators in a constant uproar.

The Arrows completely dominated play in the opening minutes of the game and finished the first quarter with a 19-5 lead. The Anderson-men stretched the margin to 36-18 at the half.

Things began getting tough for the Arrows in the third frame. Rapid River began finding the range and outscored Nahma 19 to 18, but more important to the Arrows was the loss of center Paul Thibault midway in the period. He collected his fifth personal foul in a scramble under the bucket.

Four Point Deficit

The Rockets tried desperately to overtake Nahma in the final quarter. They narrowed the gap to four points in the final minute but were unable to make up the deficit. Lawrence Seymour drew his fifth personal foul for Nahma at the two-minute mark, but Rapid River also lost Waldon Johnson on fouls as the end neared.

In the final analysis, though, it was Rapid River's failure to hit in the first period that cost the Rockets their chance at an upset. The Rockets scored only on field goal in that frame.

Scoring honors went to Rapid River's tall center, Bill Goodman, who clicked the marker for 22.

The Rapid River reserves beat Nahma's Bees 60-42 in the preliminary.

Illini In Spot For Cage Title

CHICAGO — (AP) — Coach Harry Combes admits that Illinois, on paper, is in a good spot to win its second successive Big Ten basketball title.

"But I don't go much for that 'on paper' stuff," he added. "We have Purdue at Lafayette tomorrow night. Then we play Northwestern at Champaign Monday and wind up against Wisconsin at Madison a week from Saturday."

"We always have plenty of trouble at Lafayette and at Madison. Every team will be going all out to upset us. Illinois' job to win its final three games is a tough one."

Hoping that one of Illinois last three opponents pulls a surprising upset win is Iowa's coach, Bucky O'Connor. Iowa, after being beaten by Illinois last Saturday, has a 10-2 record to the Illinois' leading 10-1.

Juvenile Puck Stars Tie, Win

The Southside Spartans and the Nortsides Jets played to a 1-1 deadlock while the Northtown Rockets beat Gladstone Little Falcons 5-2 in Juvenile League hockey here last night.

In the first game of the evening the Rockets took a 2-0 lead when Boots Boucher dented the net unassisted and Gary Paler scored on a pass from Glen Anderson.

The Falcons sent Harold Farrell in to score unassisted to narrow the margin to 2-1 before the end of the period.

Good Crowd

Paler, Tony Kutches and Dan Russo clicked for goals in the final period as the Rockets spread their lead. Anderson had another assist on Paler's shot.

Charlie Farrell speared Gladstone's goal in the second frame. Neither team registered in the third.

In the second game, Bob Dagenais broke scoring ice for the Jets on a pass from Bill Belm in the first period. There was no scoring in the tight second period. James Barkow scored on a solo tie to tie it up for the Spartans in the third.

An enthusiastic crowd attended the games at the fairgrounds indoor rink to watch the youngsters in spirited play.

District Cage Tournament Drawings Here Saturday

Drawings for the district tournament in D and E classes, to be staged at Rapid River next week, will be held at the Daily Press office tomorrow morning at 10.

The Rapid River tournaments will run Wednesday through Saturday next week. Ralph Nelson, Rapid River High faculty member, is tournament manager.

Competing in class D will be Rapid River, Cooks, Engadine, Powers, Rock and Vulcan. Class E teams in the district are Carney, Daggett, Hermansville, Nahma, Perkins and Trenary.

Vulcan, undefeated in D play this season, is top-seeded in the D tournament while Rapid River and Powers, with identical 7-3 records, will draw for the seeded position in the lower bracket.

Nahma is seeded in the top bracket and Perkins in the bottom bracket in class E.

Two D and one E games will be played Wednesday and Thursday nights, two E games on Friday and the finals in both classes Saturday.

Escanaba Winds Up Season At Gladstone Gym Tonight

Final outing for the Escanaba Eskymos before tournament time is on tap tonight at the Gladstone High School gymnasium. Coach Steve Baltic today named John Peterson and Paul Gunderman, forwards, Paul Baldwin, center, and Jim Heiden and Fred Boddy, guards, to starting positions.

The Eskymos operated well on the small Kingsford gymnasium in their last start, setting an Escanaba all-time scoring record of 77 points and also notching a season's high mark for the Flivver gym.

the Eskymos in another respect. It was their first road win of this season and Coach Baltic is hoping that tonight will continue the new trend.

Escanaba will have another goal to shoot at tonight. A victory on the Gladstone court would leave the Eskymos with a .500 percentage mark for regular season games, seven wins and seven losses.

The game will be a tournament preview as both teams are entered in the district meet at Menominee which starts next week. Menominee and Stephenson are the other teams in the tourney play.

Bee Game At 7

"We haven't been working too hard this week with the tough tournament schedule coming up, but the boys have looked very good in practice. They're driving hard and really want this one," Coach Baltic commented this morning.

The game will get under way at 8:30 following a preliminary between the Bee teams of the two schools at 7. Gladstone's Bees won the reserve tournament at Stephenson recently.

Game officials will be Allan Ronberg of Norway and Joe Stockero of Crystal Falls.

Burke Leading At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—Jack Burke, a quiet Texan who silences opponents with sharp-shooting iron shots, holds a one stroke lead in the $10,000 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament today.

The little Texan fired a four-under-par 68 to maintain his sizzling pace that began two weeks ago in the San Antonio open.

The Houston youngster won the San Antonio affair with a 24-under-par 260 to set a new PGA record for 72 holes. Last week he shot an 11-under-par 277 to win the Houston Open.

Another Texan, amateur Bert Weaver, a 20-year-old Louisiana State University sophomore from Beaumont, finished second in yesterday's opening round with a two under par 69.

Veteran Cary Middlecott, Memphis, Tenn., dentist, was tied for third with Joe Brown, Des Moines, Iowa. They posted 70's.

Ed Furgol, formerly of Royal Oak, Mich., and now playing out of St. Louis, was one of seven contestants bracketed at 72.

One stroke behind him was Bob Gajda of Birmingham, and John Barnum of Grand Rapids and Max Evans of Detroit were tied with 13 others at the 74 mark.

Baptist Pastor Assumes Pulpit

The Rev. K. J. Samuelson arrived in Gladstone Wednesday evening to assume the pastorate of the First Baptist church.

His initial services in that capacity will be held this coming Sunday.

The Rev. Samuelson was born in Chicago. He was graduated from Grant Community high school in Fox Lake, Ill., and the William Booth College in Chicago. He attended Grandview College in Des Moines, Iowa, and the Trinity Bible College and seminary at Chicago. He has also studied through the Moody Bible Institute Correspondence School.

The new pastor has been a minister of the gospel in Nebraska, Iowa, Texas and Illinois. He has served as evangelist in the South, Midwest and East. He has been a frequent Youth for Christ speaker and song leader.

Mrs. Samuelson was reared in Wallace, Mich. There are three children in the family; namely, Sheryl Ann, Kenneth Jr., and Timothy Paul.

Brownie Troop Has Playlet At Meeting

The newly organized Brownie Girl Scout troop met this week at the home of its leader, Mrs. Al Mortier on South Eleventh street.

An apple contest won by Dinah Lake and acting out a portion of the Brownie story formed the program. In the latter, Dinah Lake was the grandmother, Sharon Rose the grandmother, Dianne Hammond was Mary, Linda Nyberg played Tommy, Jean Potvin was the owl and Alana Wright the pool.

Prevented by illness from attending the meeting were Linda Aepgren, Joyce Druding and Barbara Olson.

The meeting night has been changed and the next session will be on Friday, March 7, at the recreation building at the playground.

DiMaggio Rates Five Of Toughest Hurlers

NEW YORK — (AP)—Joe DiMaggio looked back over his 15 years in the major leagues today and named five pitchers who haunted him more than any others.

The "big five" whom the retired Yankee Clipper acknowledges he's happy to be rid of are: Mel Harder, Cleveland.

Bob Lemon, Cleveland.

Dizzy Trout, Detroit.

Art Houtteman, Detroit.

Ellis Kinder, Boston Red Sox.

"There were many others who were tough and they seemed to get tougher for me as the years went by," DiMaggio said, "But these five fellows caused me the most trouble."

"I can't explain it. They all had a lot of stuff. They just had my number, I guess."

The former centerfielder of the New York Yankees admitted some of the game's outstanding mound stars were as pleasant to face as distant cousins.

"Bob Feller was never as rough for me as he was to some of the others. The same of Hal Newhouser and Ned Garver. These fellows I could hit all right. But the others—ugh!"

DiMaggio came to town yesterday to put his name on another lucrative television contract.

The latest one is for a series of quarter-hour shows to be known as "Joe DiMaggio's Dugout." The shows will be aimed at demonstrating the fundamentals of baseball to the youth of the nation. The sponsor is a macaroni firm.

Training Camp Briefs

BEST CHANCE
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Switch-hitter Mickey Mantle has the best chance of any New York Yankee outfielder to play regularly in Manager Casey Stengel's two-platoon system.

"I'm naturally a right-handed hitter," said Mantle. "But I'm just as comfortable hitting left-handed. Last year at Kansas City I was better hitting right-handed. With the Yankees I was better hitting left-handed."

PROBLEM SOLVED
SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau today was confident that one of the Boston Red Sox' 1952 problems had disappeared. On learning that Vern Stephens, handicapped by a torn thigh muscle, last season had reported in top physical shape, Boudreau listed him as the team's ranking shortstop.

Now Boudreau can settle down to picking Bobby Doerr's second base successor from a group that includes Johnny Pesky, Billy Goodman and rookies Ted Lepcio and Joe Bevan.

PRIZE STUDENT
BRADENTON, Fla.—(AP)—First-baseman Earl Torgeson, who admits being a "frustrated homerun hitter" is one of the prize students in the batting class Paul Waner is conducting during the Boston Braves spring training.

Waner, one of the game's greatest hitters, has convinced Torgeson he has been too tense at the plate and advised him to relax until the pitcher makes his throw.

CHISOX TO CAMP
EL CENTRO, Calif.—(AP)—Chicago White Sox pitchers and catchers—all but six, who will be left behind—depart today for their permanent spring training base in Pasadena, Calif.

Staying behind for five more days of special drills in charge of Coach Lum Harris were pitchers Saul Rogovin, Luis Aloma, Chuck Stobbs, Ray Preston and Lou Kretlow and catcher Bud Sheely.

Manager Paul Richards planned to stop in Palm Springs, Calif., enroute to Pasadena to look over the possibility of pitching preliminary camp there next week.

SHORTSTOP SET
MESA, Ariz.—(AP)—Bill Hardin, drafted from Rochester of the International League where he batted .262, appears to have clinched the Chicago Cubs understudy spot for shortstop Roy Smalley.

Manager Phil Cavarretta says that defensively Hardin is the best shortstop the Cubs have had since Bill Jurges.

"And I also think Hardin will improve at bat if he shortens his stride," the skipper added. "That wide stance of his is only for big men like Hank Sauer. Hardin weighs 165. He'll be valuable to use at shortstop or any infield position as a replacement."

DOBY IN RESERVE
TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—Cleveland Manager Al Lopez was tinkering with the notion today of using Larry Doby as a reserve first baseman.

Harry Simpson spelled Luke Easter at first last season, but Lopez thinks maybe he'll restrict Harry to the outfield. Doby broke into the big leagues as a first baseman and was converted to the outfield.

NO BACK SEAT
CLEARWATER, Fla.—(AP)—Vern (Nippy) Jones of the Philadelphia Phillies doesn't intend to be a Hollywood type stand-in for first baseman Eddie Waitkus because he now feels able to go all-out.

Slowed down by a back ailment the last several seasons, Jones says, "This is the first time in three years that I have been able to run enough to get into shape and swing a bat as I used to."

"I feel like playing, working and hitting so I'm going all out for the job," Jones spent many years with the St. Louis Cardinals and was drafted from Rochester of the International League by the Phillies.

HOLDOUTS WORK OUT
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—A "no workouts for holdouts" edict has been relaxed by General Manager Art Ebers of the Philadelphia Athletics and field boss Jimmy Dykes takes credit for the action.

Dykes did a lot of talking yesterday before Ebers finally consented to rescind. The decision allowed outfielder Gus Zernial an initial workout just before he signed his 1952 contract and also will allow holdout infielder Billy Hitchcock to begin conditioning today.

Dykes' argument: The club suffers as much as the player. Let 'em get in shape. I say—you know they're going to sign."

MICHAELS SIGNS
ORLANDO, Fla.—(AP)—Cass Michaels arrived here yesterday, came to terms with the Washington Senators and then went out and hit a home run in practice.

After only a so-so season last year, he was offered a $1,550 salary cut but this was finally compromised to $1,000—at $16,000 with a contingent bonus depending upon a good year. Michaels faces a battle for his second base job from such hopefuls as rookie Leroy Dietzel from Chattanooga.

Wolverines At Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Arch-rival Michigan will make an appearance here Saturday night for the final home game of the Michigan State basketball season.

The clash is expected to attract the largest crowd of the season to the 15,000-plus capacity Jenison field house.

Michigan State, with 12 wins and eight losses, has the better record of the two teams. But one of Michigan's six wins against 13 losses was a 50-36 decision over the Spartans at Ann Arbor.

The problem for Michigan State Saturday night will consist of trying to stop Michigan center Milt Mead and forward Jim Skala. Mead, six feet eight inches tall, tossed in 16 points against MSC in a previous meeting.

Skala Top Scorer

Skala has been the best Wolverine scoring threat in conference play with 135 points in 12 games.

A victory would give the Spartans their best winning percentage since a 1941-42 team won 15 and lost 6. A season's record of 13 wins has only been bettered six times during the 52 years of basketball at Michigan State.

Six MSC seniors will make their last home appearance in the game. Graduates bowing out will include guard Gordon Stauffer, forward Bill Bower, center Bob Carey and Guard Sonny Means, four of the five men in the starting lineup. Forward Keith Stackhouse, the other starter, is a sophomore.

Reserve forward Lief Carlson and Bill Eckstrom are the other seniors on the squad.

Holdout List Small But Has Big Names

NEW YORK — (AP)—Ted Williams and Ralph Kiner head a small but impressive list of major league baseball stars who have not signed their 1952 contracts.

An Associated Press survey today revealed that 29 players—17 in the American League and 12 in the National—have not come to terms.

The majority will be classified as "holdouts" if they fail to sign by Saturday, the official start of spring training.

Five National League clubs, the champion New York Giants, the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds, Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, have all of their players in the fold. Only the Chicago White Sox in the American can make the same boast.

Williams, one of four Red Sox dickering for terms, is scheduled to appear at the Sox' Sarasota base Saturday for a conference with General Manager Joe Cronin.

The high-salaried slugger is due to report to the Marines May 2 and is seeking a special contract to cover the period until he returns to service.

Infielders Billy Goodman, Johnny Pesky and pitcher Mel Parnell are the other recalcitrant Red Sox. Goodman is asking $25,000, Pesky $22,500 and Parnell $30,000.

Kiner reportedly is aiming for a two-year contract at $70,000 per season, an increase of $5,000 over his 1950-51 salary.

Pitcher Murry Dickson, a 20-game winner, is another Pirate asking for a $5,000 raise. Dickson drew $20,000 last year. Other balking Pirates are pitchers Mel Queen, Fred Strobel, Jim Walsh and infielder-outfielder George Metkovich.

The Philadelphia Athletics have four unsigned players but only shortstop Eddie Joost and first baseman Ferris Fain, the American League batting champion, may prove difficult to please. Infielder Billy Hitchcock and catcher Joe Tipton are the other unsigned A's.

Shortstop Phil Rizzuto and third baseman Bobby Brown are the lone members of the world champion New York Yankees who haven't signed.

Rizzuto is expected to agree to terms calling for an estimated $45,000 today at St. Petersburg, Fla. Brown is expecting a call any day from the Army.

The Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians each have two unsigned players and the Washington Senators one.

Infielder Jerry Priddy and pitcher Hal Newhouser haven't agreed to Tiger terms. Priddy reportedly has been asked to take a $5,000 to $7,000 cut from his 1951 pay of $32,000. Newhouser claims he has signed but the club hasn't received his contract.

Outfielder Gil Coan is Washington's only displeased athlete. Coan, who drew $14,000 last year wants more of a raise than offered.

National Cage Tournament Has Only One Open Spot

NEW YORK—(AP)—Only one spot remained to be filled in the National Invitation basketball tournament today and that could be grabbed by any of a half-dozen teams.

This has been one of the toughest seasons on record for the N.I.T. and its selection committee chairman, Asa Bushnell.

The committee, in fact, had to waive a rule it recently had adopted—the long standing NCAA ban against a player performing in a fourth year of varsity competition—in order to lure the University of Louisville into the fold.

Along with Louisville, New York University, Western Kentucky and La Salle were entered in the tourney yesterday, bringing the total to 11 teams.

Leading Candidates

Now the leading contenders for the last spot are De Paul (17-7), Loyola of Chicago (17-7), St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (16-5), Texas Christian (20-3), Villanova (17-6) and Miami of Ohio (17-5). The decision may be reached today. The tourney starts a week from tomorrow with a triple-header in Madison Square Garden. The other seven teams already entered are St. John's of Brooklyn, Duquesne, St. Louis, Dayton, St. Bonaventure, Seton Hall and Holy Cross.

Kentucky, the NCCA and South-eastern Conference champions, won its first game impressively in the SEC tournament that got under way last night. The Wildcats, led by Cliff Hagan's 29 points, crushed Georgia Tech, 80-59.

LSU's Bob Pettit tossed in 35 point, as Louisiana State drubbed Mississippi State, 77-44. In other tourney games Vanderbilt downed Georgia, 61-49, and Alabama eliminated Auburn, 63-49.

South Carolina missed out on next week's Southern Conference tourney by losing to Clemson, 78-64.

In other games Tulsa took Wichita, 61-53; Montana humbled New Mexico, 63-59, and Seattle avenged a recent defeat to Portland, 79-75. Johnny O'Brien scored 36 points for Seattle to boost his season's total to 1,096.

Research Needed

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—There seems to be a considerable dogfight in progress here in New York state over the Metcalf-Hatch bill, which is simply a measure to allow the state to drain the animal pounds of their strayed or unlicensed animals for use in medical research. Dogs that would be destroyed unless claimed would go to qualified laboratories for experimentation.

Right here is as far as you have to go for the howl to arise, and not from the animals. I can think of offhand of no more potent small lobby than the anti-vivisectionists, who have made a large hue and cry ever since I can remember about torture chambers and poor little Fido and the unfeeling brutes who sadistically tied him down and chopped him up—for fun, I guess, or so the anti-vivs would have it.

Right here I must say that the personal record is clear on dogs. I am dog poor. Nobody is taking any pooch of mine off to any pound, or to any laboratory, except over the cold carcass of the master of the hounds. But my beasts are licensed and eat better than I do and crowd me out of the sack and are not public charges.

Dogs Need People
But a dog needs a great deal of care and understanding to be a worthy member of society. Unfortunately, as soon as you turn him loose without proper care he fares ill. I can think of no more miserable living animal than a displaced dog, because, while persons do not always need a dog, there has never been a dog that didn't need a person.

The mangy, starved, bedraggled mutt that winds up in the dogcatcher's wagon has one fate—death unless claimed. That's the best deal he can make—useless death and valueless disposal. So I can't find any holes in the new bill, which is meeting the usual violent opposition, to legalize the use of impounded animals as experimental fodder. There is no threat to pets. The dogs aren't tortured in the labs. They are excellently fed and tended, and are invariably anesthetized when they are operated on. Those that die in the process are no dearer than they would be if they were destroyed in a pound.

There's no point in dwelling lengthily on the advance in medical science that might have been impossible without the experimental use of animals. Anesthesia itself, the iron lung, ACTH, and insulin are just a tiny few boons to mankind that were developed through animal experiment. I believe only 30 dogs died to make insulin possible, and maybe some million-plus diabetics are alive
